DINNER PARTY FAQ

Why should I hire a personal chef?

Save Time and Energy
Relax and enjoy time with your guests at your event without the worry and stress of cooking, serving, and clean-up. Try new dishes or enjoy reimagined classics - it's all up to you, with a totally customizable menu.

Health Reasons
Enjoy a freshly prepared meal minus the preservatives, all with your preferences and any dietary restrictions taken into consideration.

What services are included when hiring a personal chef?
All dinner parties include meal planning, grocery shopping, meal prep, service, and kitchen clean-up.

How much does this cost?
The cost will depend upon a variety of factors, including the number of guests and the menu chosen. Rest assured that all costs are outlined up-front without any surprises at your happy occasion! Please note: while tips are not included in pricing, they are much appreciated.

What do I need to do to prepare before you arrive?
Please make sure your refrigerator have enough room for placement of ingredients, which will also come in handy for any potential leftovers. Having an accessible/empty trash can and a kitchen free of any clutter or dishes that haven't been put away, is also beneficial.

What's your cancellation/refund policy?
It is understood that you may need to reschedule because of illness/emergency, in which case we will be happy to offer you the next available timeslot. Otherwise, because we have reserved the day for you in addition to the fact that this service requires the purchase of ingredients ahead of time, changes must be received a week in advance for full credit. A request to cancel within this timeframe will incur a charge at a rate of $100/hour for time already spent in addition to any hard cost, where applicable. If a date change is requested, client may incur an additional grocery charge, as groceries may need to be re-purchased.

We reserve the right to cancel or reschedule for any reason, at which time a full refund will be offered should rescheduling not be an option.
